Rossville committee completes Memorial Tree Program

ROSSVILLE—A program estimated to take three years has been completed.

The memorial tree program, announced last August, has been completed, said Chairman Tom Mills.

The tree project allowed people to purchase trees and shrubbery to be planted at Christman Park. Each tree is to be tagged with the species and name of the person in whose honor it was purchased.

Forty-nine trees and 19 shrubs were purchased in the Memorial Tree program, Mills said. Varieties of trees offered included seedless ash, red maple, red bud and flowering crab apple.

Committee members will affix brass plaques to trees Saturday in time for a dedication ceremony at 2 p.m. Sunday, Mills said. Those who have purchased foliage will receive a map specifying where their tree or shrub is located in the park.

The Memorial Tree Project was started with two goals, Mills said. The first was to raise money for the park district and also to replenish trees in the park.
