Library offers new service to users with home computers

The Physicians Desk Reference can now be accessed by library patrons from their home computers by special arrangement with Lincoln Trail Libraries System and PDR Customer Support. The link can be found on the Hoopeston Library website, <http://hooplib.org>, under Library Research. The PDR will require a username and password, as do other online references, including First Search, Grove Dictionary of Art and Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians.

Call the library at (217) 283-6711 for usernames and passwords for any of the resources. Patrons searching for library materials using their home computers will discover a new interface for LINC, the online library catalog for Lincoln Trail Libraries System. Patrons may reserve books, renew library materials and keep track of their favorite books using the new interface.

Hoopeston Multi Agency offers Wednesday series of classes
