Fishing tournament draws more than 180 area youngsters

Oat's Bait Shop reeled them in, big and small, for the fourth annual "Get the Kids Into It" fishing tournament Saturday at McFerren Park.

More than 180 youth took part in the tourney, said organizer Odie Milner.

Children were divided into age groups. Prizes were awarded to the top three anglers in each category. Winners were:

Six and younger: Aubrey Irwin, first; Takoda Hollis, second; AJ Aldwardt, third.

Seven-10: Charity Milner, first; Samantha Smith, second; Anthony Spencer, third.

11-13: Jose Cass, first; AJ Lassford, second; Alexis Grove, third.

The park lagoon was stocked with about 200 pounds of fish prior to the tournament, which drew youngsters from around the area. Participants were provided with free bait and tackle and after the tournament, got free hot dogs.

Milner deemed the event a success and thanked everyone who donated to the effort. Even kids helped out, contributing to a kids' fishing fund jar in the bait shop, he said.
