Hoopeston Multi Agency sets computer classes for seniors

The Hoopeston Multi Agency will offer computer classes aimed at older people.

Computer specialist Debbie McBride will teach the classes at the John Greer computer lab, 609 W. Main.

The first set of classes, for participants 55 and older, will meet from 4-6 p.m. Feb. 9, 11, 16 and 18. Cost is $25 per person and at least six people are needed for the class to be held.

The second group of classes will be from 4-6 p.m. March 8, 10, 15 & 17. Cost for the classes, which will include introductory lessons in the internet, email and using a digital camera, are $30 per person. Anyone may attend these classes but priority is given to seniors. At least five people must sign up for classes to be held.

To reserve a seat, call the Multi Agency at

Moms support group

The First Christian Church of Hoopeston is offering a free mothers' support group. The group meets at 1 p.m. Thursdays at the church, 502 E. Main, and offers play time, small crafts and social interaction for children and a time for mothers to meet other moms, share stories and parenting advice and vent problems.

Mothers who wish to attend are asked to use the education entrance on the west side of the church.

For more information, contact the church office at 283-6991 and leave a message for Bobbi O'Bryan.
