Sunday morning accident victims said to be from Danville

Two young Danville men were killed Sunday morning when the car they were in struck a utility pole at about 6 a.m. in rural Hoopeston.

The names of the victims still had not been released at press time but Vermilion County Coroner Peggy Johnson said the two were traveling at a high rate of speed when their vehicle hit the pole, causing the vehicle to catch on fire, then igniting the pole. The men were burned beyond recognition, Johnson said.

Autopsies were scheduled for 9:30 Monday morning after which positive identification was expected to be confirmed.

The fire caused so much damage that officers said they could not tell what color the car was, said Capt. John Howard of the Vermilion County Sheriff's Department. Identification of the owner of the car was made through a serial number on the engine because both the number on the door and dash were melted in the fire, he said.

Howard said speculation that the car contained meth-amphetamine lab components is unfounded. "There's nothing in the report to indicate that," he said adding an investigation is ongoing.

The Vermilion County Sheriff's Department and coroner investigated. The Hoopeston Fire Department was also called to the scene.

Fire Calls

The Hoopeston Fire Department was called at 12:35 a.m. Monday to the 800 block of East Seminary for a report of a porch on fire.
