Vermilion County Health Department moves local office

The Vermilion County Health Department is relocating its Hoopeston office. Administrator Steve Laker says the new facility will provide easier access for clients and better safety and security for health department staff. “The new facility will be on the ground floor, allowing better access for our clients and employees,” he said. The new location is at 102 North First Ave., at the former Stokley office, now owned by KBA Limited. Programs and services for Hoopeston-area clients will temporarily cease later this month, and resume regular

Stores promote local products

Two Hoopeston area retailers are participating in the Consumer Awareness program through Vermilion Advantage.

Hoopeston IGA and Priceless Foods began participation in this program in the past month. Labels will be placed next to products on the shelves that are either produced in whole or have ingredients produced in Vermilion County.

Buying local products helps support local businesses and helps retain dollars in the county. This is one more way for Vermilion County residents to “Think Vermilion County First.” Look for these labels in Hoopeston stores!
