Former Hoopeston man to present animal show at library

Hoopeston's own Dan Breeding will present a magic and animal show at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Hoopeston Public Library.

Breeding is a graduate of the Moorpark College Exotic Training and Management Program in Ventura, Calif., and has worked with Going Ape in Auburn, Calif., Wild Things Wildlife Assemblies, Animals in Action of Los Angeles and Silver Springs Attractions.

He is currently head trainer for Wild Ones, Animal Encounters, Inc.

Breeding resides with his family in Raleigh, N.C. where he also runs a Christian wildlife outreach called Creatures of Creation, a program that challenges, amazes and blesses people with facts about God's creatures here on earth.

For more information, call the library at (217) 283-6711.

ART sets comedy/mystery

Artistic Repertory Theatre presents the comedy/mystery "Any Number Can Die" this weekend at the Hoopeston Civic Center.

The production is a spoof on Agatha Christie murder mysteries, as it takes place on an island where a will is to be read at midnight. When the inheritance is finally disclosed, people start being killed off left and right. It's up to our novice private investigators to figure out the murderer before they get knocked off too!

The performance stars a cast of 12 including David Lohnes, Dennis David, Beth Anderson, Marlynn Luhrs, Cristin Prince, and Travis Dean.

Performances are at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday.

Tickets are $8 and can be reserved by calling 283-6553. Tickets will also be available at the door. Refreshments will also be served.
