Hoopeston police chief graduates from executive program

MACOMB—Local law enforcement executive Mark Drollinger graduated from the acclaimed Illinois Law Enforcement Training and Standards Board Executive Institute executive development program Police Executive Role in the 21st Century on May 24, 2006 in Springfield, Illinois.

The Police Executive Role in the 21st Century is a comprehensive and challenging program designed to equip police managers and executives with professional development necessary for successful management and leadership.

The 200-hour executive development program meets the needs of senior law enforcement managers and executives for state-of-the-art professional development in law enforcement administration.

Program participants received instruction on modern police management systems and practices, strategic approaches to patrol and investigations, human resource issues, emergent technology, organizational communication, and executive responsibilities.

Silgan Containers receives 13th consecutive Hormel honor

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif.—The "Spirit of Excellence" continues at Silgan Containers Corporation with the 13th consecutive award of its kind from Hormel Foods. The annual award recognizes suppliers that have achieved performance excellence and demonstrated outstanding quality.

The "Spirit of Excellence" is awarded to suppliers that meet or exceed Hormel's Supplier Quality Management (SQM) requirements. Silgan's 2005 report card includes a 100% on-time performance record for all 2,738 deliveries, 100% administrative accuracy and a 99.9% product quality rating. "Hormel's extensive SQM system is designed to provide objective, definitive data on each supplier's products and operations," said Thomas J. Snyder, Executive Vice President for Silgan Containers. "Our 99.6% rating in overall performance underscores the importance of every task and the contributions of many individuals at each Silgan plant."

Steve Jensen, Corporate Manager of Purchasing for Hormel Foods, presented Silgan Containers with the award. "Silgan's track record in meeting our needs over the years is outstanding," said Jensen. "2005 in particular was a year of extreme events, including hurricanes and FEMA orders, and still Silgan responded to our rush needs without exception."

In addition to 13 "Spirit of Excellence" awards, Silgan has been recognized with two "Hormel #1 Awards" (1995 and 2000), the only container packaging supplier to date to hold this honor. The "Hormel #1 Award" is presented every 5 years to suppliers that have met or exceeded the Supplier Quality Management requirements of the "Spirit of Excellence" for that period and that have demonstrated continuous improvement year after year.

Silgan Containers, a subsidiary of Silgan Holdings, is the largest manufacturer of metal food containers in North America, with a unit volume market share in the United States in 2005 of approximately half of the market and net sales of $1.886 billion. Silgan Containers manufactures and sells steel and aluminum containers that are used primarily by processors and packagers for food products, such as soup, vegetables, fruit, meat, tomato based products, coffee, seafood, adult nutritional drinks, pet food and other miscellaneous food products. Our customers include Campbell, Del Monte, General Mills, Hormel Foods, Nestle and many other brands.
