Handmade items from developing regions to be available

Sale helps artisans, farmers find markets

The community is invited to shop for fair trade gifts, housewares, jewelry, Christmas decorations, and more handmade items from artisans and farmers living in developing regions. First Presbyterian Church is hosting A Greater Gift Sale on Friday, November 9, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m., in conjunction with our annual Pasta Dinner, so as you wait to be seated for your meal, you can browse and purchase the beautiful items on display. All are priced under $25.

The sale is hosted in partnership with A Greater Gift, which works in 35 countries to enable artisans and farmers to gain access to markets and maintain a sustainable income. Anyone shopping at the sale can know that the proceeds from their purchases improve working conditions and provide access to education and healthcare for the artisans and their families.

Striving to be faithful to Jesus' command to love God and one another, First Presbyterian Church is committed to seeking justice for all our neighbors. First Presbyterian Church is located at 915 E. Orange St. For more information about the sale, call (217)283-6229.

Boot Bill

The cast of Get Bill Shakespeare Off the Stage pauses for a picture during rehearsal Monday. The play is being performed by the Hoopeston Area Drama Club at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the high school auditorium. Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for students in grades 1-12 and free for senior citizens and youngsters in kindergarten and younger. Pictured are, from left, Brian Huffman, Katie Pajor, Katana Byers, Adam Perzee, Chelsea Rowe, Callie Huffman, Josh Dobkins, Megan Rosenbraugh, Christopher Bock, Doni York and Jacy Samet. The production is directed by Connie Huffman.
