Hoopeston Public Library has Food for Fines, book sale

Hoopeston Public Library is announcing the annual "Food for Fines" event, as well as a holiday book sale.

Library patrons may pay off their library fines and help a good cause beginning December 1, when the annual "Food for Fines" drive begins.

During December, the library will accept canned goods and nonperishable food items within their expiration dates, along with packaged household paper products as payment of library fines. Each item or package donated will be worth $1 toward payment of library fines. Donations are good for overdue material fines only and cannot go toward the cost of lost items or other library fees.

All items received will be donated to Grant Township Food Cupboard. For more information, contact the library at (217) 283-6711.

For those who have book lovers on their Christmas shopping lists, the perfect gifts might be found at the library's 2010 holiday book sale, which is going on now. Patrons may take home a bag of books for only $2.

The library's lower level board room is filled with new and used fiction and nonfiction books for all ages - and a few other surprises. The sale will run during regular library hours.
