Milford native earns state Outstanding Young Person award

Dana Smith Schaumburg, a Milford native, was honored in May as one of Illinois Jaycees Outstanding Young People of 2013. As leading examples of many walks of life, these 10 exceptional individuals represent the highest qualities of the citizenry of the great state of Illinois.

Schaumburg was nominated for her philanthropic contribution and voluntary service in the Danville area. She moved to Danville in May 1999, and has worked as a reporter and editor for the Commercial-News, sales support representative at EnvirOx and currently as Downtown Danville, Inc. executive director.

A member of Downtown Danville Rotary, Schaumburg also serves as Area 8 Assistant District Governor for Rotary International; is a board member for the Executive Club of Danville and the Vermilion County Workforce Investment Board; and volunteers for Danville Jaycees, Bismarck-Henning Junior High Booster Club, Danville Symphony Orchestra and Faith In Action among other local groups.

SCHAUMBURG

She recently co-founded "Neighbors Helping Neighbors," a community project to connect those who can help with those who need help in Vermilion County. The project coordinates collection drives to help local nonprofits in need of specific items and connects volunteers with local projects.

In 2012, she launched the inaugural Taste of Down-See AWARD on other side
