School children honored for artwork at medical center

PUSMC to display work for two years

Three Hoopeston Area youngsters and one from Rossville-Alvin are among students whose artwork will grace Provena United Samaritans Medical Center.

Evelyn Albaugh of Maple, Brynna Dale of Honeywell and Tsaiah Debban of John Greer are among 21 young artists whose work was selected for PUSMC's annual Children's Art Program.

Michael Chochola of Rossville-Alvin Elementary was also selected for the program.

The 21 students' artwork was unveiled at a program last Thursday. Each piece will be professionally matted and framed and will hang in the medical center for two years. At the end of that time, artwork will be returned to the artist and his or her family.

"This is one of our favorite programs," said Becky Hawkins, Director of Volunteer Services, who coordinates the program. "The unveiling is always fun for the kids and their families, then the real treat is to have these colorful, original pieces the children create hanging around the hospital."

Administrators from Presence United Samaritans assisted in the unveiling, and then the artists and their families were treated to a picnic-style dinner.

Other students, grades K-5, whose artwork was chosen are: Jaedyn Vela, Armstrong-Ellis Elementary; Jashawn Tools, Cannon Elementary; Dakota Gritten, Catlin Elementary; Lauren Johnson, Chrisman Elementary; and Kaden Patton, Danville Lutheran Immanuel.

Also, Emma Towne, East Park Elementary, Temperence Schreiner, Edison Elementary; Josiah Harmless, First Baptist School; Mackhail Walker, Garfield Elementary; Samaya Dobson, Jamaica Elementary; Emily Eller, Judith Giacomina Elementary; KyEshia Maze, Liberty Elementary; Gabrielle Bonds, Meade Park Elementary; and Sarah Schroeder, Northeast Elementary.

And, Jace Bina, Pine Crest Elementary; Ainslee Johnson, Schlarman Academy; and Lexi Moore, Southwest Elementary.

The Children's Art Program is funded by Presence United Samaritans Medical Center. For more information, call 217.443.5279.
