U of I Extension, Master Gardeners to talk extending growing sea-

University of Illinois Extension and the Vermilion County Master Gardeners will hold another installment of the Tuesday Night Classes, this time on extending the growing season of plants. "Season Extenders – Greenhouses and Coldframes" will take place at 6:30 p.m. on November 11 at Crossroads Christian Church, Danville.

Hobby greenhouses, cold frames and hoop houses are all ways to extend the growing season in Illinois and they are just some of the techniques to be discussed at the class.

Vermilion County Master Gardeners, Charlie Collom, Mary Stonecipher, Frank Smith and Carol Miller will discuss their experiences and share their know-how, as well as answer questions.

Collom is both a Master Gardener and a representative for International Greenhouse Supply in Tilton.

This event is part of a year-long educational series called the "Vermilion Master Gardener Tuesday Night classes."

Registration is $5 and can be paid in advance online at <https://web.extension.illinois.edu/registration/?RegistrationID=9785>. Proceeds are used to fund Master See GROWING on other side

If it's to be, it's up to me!

This phrase came into my vocabulary when I started selling Tupperware and stayed with me those sixteen years. I then used it in every situation in my life.

If it's to be, it's up to me! Such small words can make a huge difference to me and to you. It's up to us, 1.) To look for the best in others. 2.) To make every moment count. 3.) To live in the present. 4.) To practice my freedoms to the best of my ability.

As you go to the polls to vote; you have lots of decisions to make, who to vote for and what to vote for. I ask each of you to take time to carefully consider how you vote. How will your vote effect the state, your community and your family?

If it's to be, it's up to me and you. Please exercise your right, VOTE.
