'Hoopeston' joins publisher's 'Images of America' series

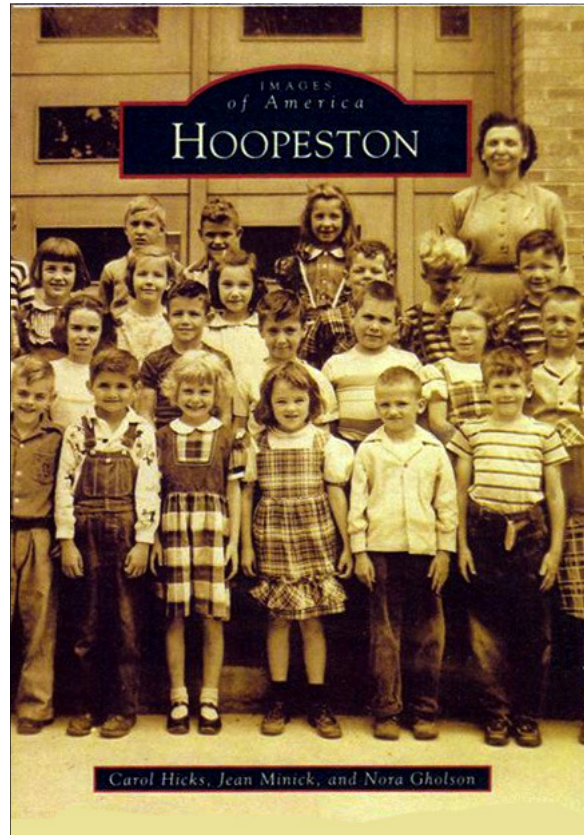

Three Hoopeston women, all members of Hoopeston Historical Society, are the authors of a new book on Hoopeston that will be available later this month.

Carol Hicks, Jean Minick and Nora Gholson are responsible for the newest of Arcadia Publishing's "Images of America" series. "Hoopeston" is 128 pages of historical black and white photographs and postcards from bygone days.

Entries were compiled from the authors' personal collections, as well as media, library archives and community members to tell the story of Hoopeston's 143-year history.

Hoopeston Historical Society members will have the book available for $20. It may also be ordered online at <http://www.arcadiapublishing.com/9781467114240/> Hoopeston, for $21.99 starting June 29.

Carol Hicks, Jean Minick and Nora Gholson have authored a picture book of Hoopeston history, part of Arcadia Publishing's "Images of America" series, titled "Hoopeston." The book will be available for purchase locally and online.

Birthday celebration

The children of Dale Graham will hold a birthday

Our 19 month old son loves to put his daddy's shoes on and wobble through the house babbling "shoes." I pray that one day both our boys can fill their daddy's shoes and be great fathers like him one day. For the last four years I have watched my husband of ten years kiss boo-boos, cheer them on, and nurture them into sweet little men.

Father's Day has always meant so much to me because each year I try to celebrate my dad of...well I am not going to say the number of how many years...with something extra special. My dad isn't your typical dad. He doesn't play golf, watch sports, or have a man cave. My dad likes to be outside with a cool glass of lemonade on the porch swing. My dad likes to work in the garden and plant beautiful flowers. My dad likes to have a movie marathon with my mom of almost 44 years. My dad is the dad that climbed up into the tallest maple tree in our yard to tie a rope swing for my sister and I. We would insist on being pushed higher and higher, hoping our tippy toes would reach the branches of the most giant tree we had ever seen! My dad is the type of dad you can tell anything to and he will just sit and listen- just the best dad a girl could have.

However you celebrate your dad this year for Father's Day, make it one of a kind and make it from the heart. Happy Father's Day to all fathers and fathers at heart!
