Fake news to be topic of HPL panel discussion on Tuesday

Fake news: it's the buzzword of the year, and a reason why many people are frustrated with the media. But a free press is one of the cornerstones of American democracy, and it's important citizens stay informed. So how do you find the truth in an age of information overload?

Hoopeston Public Library will hold a program that might help, "Fake News: Cutting through the Clutter to Find the Facts", at 6 p.m., Tuesday.

A panel discussion will feature three area journalists: Jordan Crook, reporter/editor of the Hoopeston Chronicle; Mary Wicoff, of the Danville Commercial-News; and Pam Dempsey, executive director of the Midwest Center for Investigative Reporting, an online, independent newsroom based in Champaign-Urbana.

The program will focus on the role of the press in a free society and how news gathering and reporting has changed over the years. Discussion will include the blurring between news and entertainment on television, how the 24/7 news cycle has affected what we see on TV, and how social media is often used by partisan groups to discredit legitimate journalistic institutions. Panelists will offer tips on how to become informed news consumers and where to find balanced, thorough reporting.

A question and answer session will also be part of the program. For more information, call the library at 217-283-6711.

Guests enjoy refreshments at an open house for the new Family Health Care of Cissna Park, part of Gibson Area Hospital and Health Services in partnership with Creekside Prairie of Cissna Park

Entities team up to bring new medical center to Cissna Park

GIBSON CITY—For the past three months Creekside Prairie and Gibson Area Hospital & Health Services (GAHHS) have been working vigorously together to create a brand new medical clinic for the residents of Cissna Park. The culmination of this flourishing partnership finally came to fruition on Tuesday, February 28 when the Family Health Care of Cissna Park opened its doors and invited area residents of Cissna Park for an open house.

The open house gave local residents an opportunity to see the inviting space built specifically for the Family Health Care of Cissna Park while enjoying some local BBQ from Luke’s One Stop and gourmet coffee and treats from Corner Stone Café in Onarga. The nearly 200 residents in attendance were also able to preview the three other GAHHS services: Elite Performance, Physical Therapy and Behavioral Wellness, also coming to Creekside Prairie in the upcoming week.

During the open house residents and attendees also had a chance to win one of eight different raffle prizes including Fitbits and care packages from the GAH Foundation and the Auxiliary gift shop. Jean Ownes and Russ Walder were the lucky winners of the brand new Fitbits, while Sonnie Bauer and Elaine Young each took home a gift certificate to Elite Performance. Dan Worthey and Wilma Rinkenberger were drawn as winners of the GAH Auxiliary gift shop care packages and Garrett Beebe and Jackie Bauer won the GAH Foundation care packages.
