Street collection to help fund St. Anthony youth mission trip

On Saturday, May 6, the St. Anthony Youth Group will hold a street corner drive as a fundraiser for their annual mission trip. In June, the group is traveling to Philadelphia and will join 300 other high school/college age students in their quest to serve mankind.

Heart WorkCamp is indeed a mission experience and more. The Friday of each camp is a free day so participants may experience the history, traditions and culture unique to every city.

"We try to expose our students to experiences that they cannot encounter in the Midwest," said chaperone Bill Goodwine. "Last year it was the Oklahoma City bombing site and museum. In other years we have toured the French Ouarter and a plantation in New Orleans, gone white water rafting in Colorado, visited Ground Zero in New York City, toured the Kennedy Space Center in Florida. I could go on since this is our 17th year.

"Philadelphia will be no different. We will see the liberty bell, Constitution Hall, Ben Franklin's gravesite, Betsy Ross' house. As a culinary experience we will sample the famous and delectable Philadelphia street vendor pretzels as well as Philadelphia cheese steak sandwiches. All of these things help open the eyes of the kids from Hoopeston. There is a big world out there. It is all available to those who reach for it. It starts with an exposure to these things."

The mission/service part of the trip includes painting houses or landscaping in a poverty area of the city. The 300 campers who meet in Philadelphia will split into 50 work teams of 6 students and an adult leader. They will accomplish 50 projects within the city. They sleep on school room floors in a rented school. In the evenings
