Indian, pioneer lifestyles featured at area fall festival

ROSSVILLE—Family entertainment from days gone by will be featured at the Rossville Fall Festival this weekend.

The event, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, will feature Indian and pioneer displays, as well as a flea market, antiques and crafts said Tony McKinley of the Rossville Merchants Association.

The Rossville Merchants Association, in conjunction with the Progressive Merchants Association, sponsors the festival.

One block of Attica St., directly off Chicago St., will be closed for the festival, McKinley said. Vendors of merchandise and food will sell their wares along the street. Village shops will also be open.

Featured this year will be an Indian village display,

Indian and pioneer folklore and Tawaskote pioneer arms and craftsmen, complete with blacksmith, McKinley said.

Paul Quick will host story time for children at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. both days, and the Kickapoo Sidekicks will perform and host street line dancing from 2:30-4 p.m. Saturday. At approximately 2 p.m. Sunday, the Sweet Adelines are scheduled to perform.

This is the festival's sixth year, McKinley said. It had been held at the end of October, closer to Halloween, but "the weather was never permitting," he said.

Crowds have grown over the years, but McKinley is not sure how many people attend. "I know we get bunches of people," he said. "It could be hundreds, it could be thousands."

Briefly

Restaurant opens

Hoopeston's newest restaurant, Sundae's, opened Thursday afternoon.

The eatery, located in the former Mr. L's building on Penn St., will offer Italian food, steaks, chicken, burgers and soup, salad and fruit bars.

Hours at the restaurant will be 11 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Sunday for Sundae brunch.

Breakfast will be added in a few weeks, said co-owner Robyn Jones. Breakfast service will begin at 5 a.m.

The restaurant is owned by Jones and David Howard.

Yard contest winners

Alan and Jannie Baker were selected as this week's People's Choice yard contest winners.

They are now eligible for the monthly contest and prizes from Flowers & Gifts by Molly Culbert, Ace Hardware, Rhonda's Baskets and Schuler's Flower Shop.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in the Oct. 12 edition that equipment will be removed from Hoopeston Foods Inc. this month. Plant manager Roger Bundy said machinery will be removed next month.
