Girls to clash in Powder Puff game during Homecoming week

The girls take to the gridiron tonight in a Powder Puff football game, part of Homecoming activities this week at Hoopeston Area High School.

The game, featuring girls from all classes, will begin at 7 p.m. under the lights of Glen Brasel Field. Admission is $1 per person and the concessions stand will be open. Proceeds from tonight's game will go to the Hoopeston Multi Agency's Teen REACH program.

Senior boys will act as officials and cheerleaders.

The king and queen assembly will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium. King candidates are Brian Bibb, Casey Burkett, Darin Coon and Jordan Haley.

Nominated for queen are Meredith Alt, Brittany Buss,

Abby Watson and Alicia Wood.

Homecoming royalty will be crowned during halftime of Friday's game against Tolono Unity. The game begins at 7 p.m.

This year's attendants include Danny Allen and Brenda Granados, freshman; Curtis Warner and Holly Howell, sophomores; and Casey Smith and Andrea Wilson, juniors.

Thursday's activities include the traditional bonfire at 9 p.m. behind the high school.

The annual parade will begin at 2 p.m. Friday and will travel west on Orange to Fourth St., then north to Penn, west on Penn to Bank and north to Main, ending downtown.

Attorney General targets gas chain for gouging consumers

Illinois Attorney General Jim Ryan has filed suit against Iowa-based Casey's General Stores, Inc., alleging the corporation gouged consumers following last week's terrorist attack.

The suit alleges 13 Casey's stores raised prices on 87 octane to as much as $5 per gallon after the attack.

Casey's stores named in the suit are in Andalusia, Port Byron, Peoria, West Peoria, Monmouth, Galesburg, Belleville, Chillicothe, Farmington, North Pekin, Pekin, Morton and Creve Coeur. Local Casey's are excluded.

Casey's General Stores announced Wednesday morning that will make refunds to customers. The company is also changing its pricing policy, limiting local control.

Customers who wish to report price gouging following Tuesday's attack may call (800) 243-0618. Ryan is considering making price gouging a violation of state law.
