Company pitches pictures to beautify municipal building

Oil paintings of historic Hoopeston pictures may grace the walls of Hoopeston's city hall if residents or organizations are willing to purchase them.

Mary Smith of State Aerial Farm Statistics, Inc., displayed some paintings at Monday's Hoopeston City Council meeting.

Paintings are created from vintage aerial photographs taken in 1972 and include such scenes as McFerren Park, FMC, John Greer and Hoopeston Area High School.

Paintings are available in two sizes, 20"x30" for $459 and 16"x24" for $399. A second painting could be purchased for 10% less and additional selections would receive a 15% discount, Smith said

The city will not purchase paintings, said Mayor Chalmers Flint. However, anyone willing to donate a painting, or part of the cost, could be noted on a plaque.

In other business, the council:
 • approved a tax levy of nearly $905,000. The largest increases were in police and fire protection, which went from a rate of .075 last year to .15 this year.

Briefly

Water off

Some Rossville residents will be without water service Tuesday and/or Wednesday, including the east side of the 100 block of South Chicago and the 100 and 200 blocks of Maple, Gilbert and South Summit.

A boil order will be in effect for those areas only when service is restored.

Revival services

The First Baptist Church of Hoopeston is holding revival and evangelical services at 7 p.m. nightly through Friday. Evangelist David Barba will speak each night.

The public is invited to attend.

- discussed finalizing tax increment financing (TIF) plan to include annexation of the former Carnival Video store at Rtes. 1 and 9 and land owned by Eric Houmes on West Elm near Pla-Mor Lanes.
- learned a recent LEADS inspection at the police department showed 100 percent compliance.
- approved a $1/year lease on 10 acres of ground south of Scott Dr. and west of Sixth Ave. for a soccer complex if local men receive a grant. Marty Dobkins and Kevin Jett are working on a grant for the project, Flint said.
