A 65-year-old man reported Sunday that someone took a cell phone from a vehicle at his home in the 800 block of East Honeywell.

The person who took more gas than he paid for at Casey's General Store returned to the store Sunday and paid for the gas.

Former resident arrested in Florida after hostage situation

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—A former Hoopeston man is being held without bond after authorities say he held a lawyer hostage at gunpoint and threatened to blow up a building.

John M. Knight, 36, currently of Fort Wayne, Ind., is charged with holding an attorney hostage for two hours last Wednesday in hopes of getting a Florida judge to resign.

Knight is facing charges of kidnapping, aggravated assault, carrying a concealed weapon, perpetrating a bomb hoax and impersonating a law-enforcement officer in connection with the incident, which started shortly before 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. Officials allege Knight showed homemade identification that identified him as a law enforcement official, allowing him entrance to the Riverfront Tower office building. Once inside, Knight allegedly took 44-year-old Jacksonville attorney Christopher Hazelip hostage, demanding forcing him to call Mayor John Peyton.

As part of his peaceful surrender, Knight reportedly asked for the resignation of Duval County
