Health department gets more flu vaccine, local clinic set

The Vermilion County Health Department has received the remainder of its original request for flu vaccine and has scheduled a local immunization clinic.

The local clinic will be held from 1-6 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23 at Hoopeston United Methodist Church, 403 W. Main.

No appointment is necessary for the walk-in clinic but those ages 19 to 64 wanting flu shots must contact their physicians to verify their eligibility for high risk flu immunization.

The additional vaccine means the department will be able to offer flu shots to an increased number of people whose health status and/or age puts them at particular risk to the effects of influenza," said Community Health Services Director Lynn Galloway.

The department last week began to screen people age 65 and older with chronic illnesses who are considered most at risk from the effects of influenza; they will be vaccinated by appointment only next week. Galloway said the next group to be vaccinated will be people age 19 and up with chronic illness. "The arrival of additional vaccine will eliminate the need for us to do pre-screenings and make appointments," she said.

The health department received half of its original order last week. "We are extremely fortunate to now receive all of our vaccine," said Administrator Steve Laker. "The arrival of the rest of our order means we expect to be able to vaccinate those in all three high priority categories".

Earlier, in response to critically reduced supplies of flu vaccine, the health department set three high risk categories for flu shots those age 65 and older with chronic illness; those ages 19 to 64 with chronic illness; those age 65 and up.

Flu shots will be also be available at the health department, 200 S College Street in Danville from 9am to 7pm on Monday, November 22; and Trinity United Church of Christ, 311 Moses Ave., Westville from 11am to 5pm on Wednesday, November 24.

"We have been asking doctors to fax us documentation in this first round," Galloway said, "And as we move into the second round we will be in continued contact with local physicians to ensure those most in sandwiches all day. Those attending may bring a covered dish if they choose.

The Legion will serve chili and potato soup all day.

In Rossville, the veterans recognition parade will be held at 10:45 a.m., going from Rossville-Alvin High School to the Veterans Memorial. A service will be held at the memorial at 11 a.m. followed by lunch at the American Legion at Church and Thompson. Donations of salads or desserts to need in the second category receive immunization."

Laker said the third round of flu immunizations is planned for the same sites. "Once we reach that third round," Laker said, "We will also accept anyone age 65 and older whether they have a documented chronic illness or not."

The third round of immunizations for those age 19 and up with documented chronic illness, and those age 65 and up will be: 9 a.m.-7 p.m. Monday, November 29 at the health department in; 1-6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Hoopeston United Methodist; and 1-7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 1 at Trinity Church in Westville

If vaccine is available, additional high risk flu clinics may be set. For information, call 431-2662, or visit their website at www.vchd.org.
