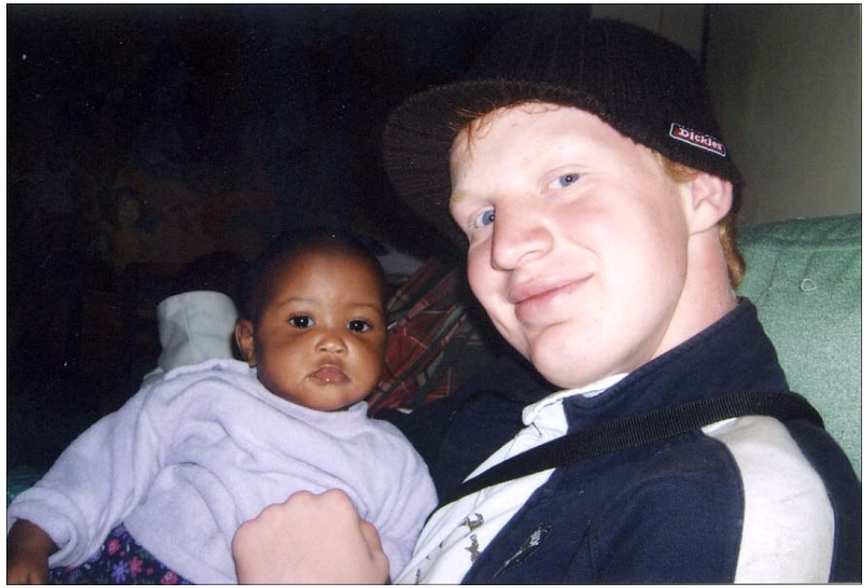
Mother-son team among those going on Tanzania mission

Andrew Eells, 18-year-old son of Earl and Donna Eells, will return to Tanzania, Africa on June 18 for his third short-term mission trip to that country.

But he won't travel alone. Andrew is very excited that his mom, Donna Eells, will be going too. While Andrew can't wait for his mom to meet the people that he has come to love in Tanzania, she is a little anxious about the long flight there and the extreme heat so close to the equator.

Also making the trip for the first time are Joyce Cottingham of Hoopeston, Becky Lister of Rossville and seven from Milford Christian Church.



Andrew Eells, of rural Rossville, poses with an unidentified child from a previous mission trip to Tanzania. He, along with his mother, Donna, and others, will return there this month, marking his third mission trip to the African country.

The Teen Mission, USA team of 16 will be teaching Vacation Bible School, helping with repairs at the church, and helping at a refugee camp.

Several from the team have been on other mission trips. Cottingham is not new to mission trips and the heat. She has also been to Haiti and Mexico. Andrew and Donna Eells have also been to Monterey, Mexico.

Andrew, who graduated from Hoopeston Area High School this year, will begin his studies at Lincoln Christian College in August majoring in missions.
