Works by local young artists chosen for Provena art program

DANVILLE—Some local artists are among works from 17 students selected to be displayed in the fourth annual Children's Art Program.

Students in grades kindergarten through fifth submitted entries for the program. Works chosen by school art instructors for the program were professionally matted, framed and will hang in Provena United Samaritans Medical Center.

Works from one student from each of Hoopeston's grade centers and Rossville-Alvin Elementary School were selected. The winners are:

Maple Grade School—Riley Wyss
Honeywell School—Keeley Harris
John Greer School—Tylor Stebbins
Rossville-Alvin Elementary—Kai Maged

Other winners included Cassidy Bryant, Bismarck-Henning Elementary; Anthony Watson, Catlin Elementary; Stephenie Royce, Danville Lutheran School; Jazzmyn Hicks, East Park Elementary; Cynthia Talbert, First Baptist Christian School; Destany Taylor, Garfield Elementary; Kevin Lane, Holy Family; Emaria Pena, Liberty Elementary; Nakela Coates, Meade Park Elementary; Kelsey Grimm, Oakwood Grade School' Cortney Mikel, Pinecrest Elementary; Brandon Phelps, Southwest Elementary; and Elizabeth Lerner, St. Paul School.

Unveiling of the artwork will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 9 at the medical center. Administrators from Provena United Samaritans will assist in the unveiling and then the artists and their families will be treated to a picnic-style dinner.

"This event is so much fun for the children and their families and for us, too," said Becky Hawkins, Director of Volunteer and Senior Services, who coordinates the program. "The unveiling is a fun event and then all year long, visitors and staff really enjoy seeing the colorful, original pieces the children create.

The Children's Art Program is funded by Provena United Samaritans Medical Center. For more information, call (217) 477-2771.
