Northern Illinois University, IDPH conducting phone survey

Northern Illinois University began telephoning households in Vermilion County Thursday and will continue for at least one month.

The Illinois Department of Public Health, in cooperation with the County Health Departments, are conducting a health behavior study of adults 18 years of age and older who live in Vermilion County. In order to assure a representative sample, the survey procedure includes a selection protocol to choose one adult in a household to be interviewed.

People are sometimes uncertain how to tell whether a telephone call is a legitimate survey. If the telephone call is for a legitimate survey, the caller should be willing to tell you where he or she is calling from, who is sponsoring the survey and where you can get further information. If you are called and have questions or concerns, talk them over with the person calling.

If you have been selected for the survey, you will be provided, upon request, with a toll-free number for Northern Illinois University so you can verify the origin of the call.

All information obtained in the survey will be kept

Supporters of Multi Agency seek help in getting $500 grant

Supporters of the Hoopeston Multi Agency are asking residents to help the agency receive a $500 grant from Cellular One.

Through December 24, residents may go into the local Cellular One store, 301 E. Main, to vote for the Multi Agency to receive one of 13 grants of $500 each in the Cellular One area. The area also includes Casey, Charleston, Danville, Flora, Georgetown, Lawrenceville, Mattoon, Newton, Olney, Paris, Robinson and Tuscola.

To qualify, selected agencies must be charities registered with the Internal Revenue Service.

Those voting must be 18 years old and may vote once a day until December 24.
