Critters draw crowd to Hoopeston Public Library Saturday

Dan Breeding was the spokesman at a special presentation Saturday at Hoopeston Public Library, but he wasn't the star of the show.

Breeding, of Wild Animal Encounters of Raleigh, N.C., was upstaged by fur, feathers and scales.

The Hoopeston native entertained scores of youngsters and adults while promoting the library. Displaying animals, including Barb ("last name Wire") a three-month-old porcupine and Eugene, a Eurasian eagle owl, he told youngsters about the importance of reading.

Breeding, who is also a magician, recounted how, as a youngster, he would check out books on magic from the library to hone his craft.

— Indoors and Outdoors —
By Molly Culbert

It was awesome to be an “old timer” this weekend, as people came “home” to Rossville for the big celebration. I was honored and overwhelmed as they came here (to the store) to visit with me, and blessings of blessings, I recognized most of them. They were looking for a connection, to visit yesteryears and here I am, by the grace of God, all eighty-five years of me. It was a heartwarming, great weekend. Congratulations Rossville, you did a wonderful thing for a lot of people and made for all of us more good, warm, loving, happy memories.

And now, with a Hi, Hi, Ho, it’s back to work we go. The big rummage sale starts Thursday morning between 8:30 a.m. to 9 a.m.—meant to be outdoors, it’s grown indoors, too. To you who already think you have too much, I suggest you’ll never find a better time or place to shop for Christmas or other gift occasions. Sale is Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. You are welcome to come everyday.

Glenn Seymour’s son, Maurice Seymour, who lives in California, called. Cell phones are wonderful after all, and so is my 800 number. Great news—he “reads” Just the Facts on his computer to keep in touch!

A Hoopeston man is being held on more than $2 million bond.

Bond on that warrant was $394 cash. He was also found to be wanted on seven other Vermilion County traffic warrants with bond totaling $60,000.

Additionally, Cordova was wanted on Dallas County, Tex., warrants for possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver and one for possession of methamphetamines, each with bond of $1 million.
