Health department sets county H1N1 influenza clinics

Vermilion County Health Department is releasing its initial schedule for H1N1 vaccination clinics, which includes one in Hoopeston.

The Hoopeston clinic is scheduled for 1-7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 9-10 at the McFerren Park Civic Center. There is no cost for the vaccination. Appointments are not necessary.

Parents and others should be aware this supply contains Thimerosal, a mercury-containing preservative used in some vaccines to prevent contamination. "While the amount of Thimerosal currently contained in the vaccine we are receiving is minute, parents will need to make their own decisions on whether to wait until we receive Thimerosal-free vaccine in late November or early December, or get their children vaccinated now," said health administrator Steve Laker.

Parents/guardians must accompany children 18 and under when they receive the vaccination. Children under 10 need to have two doses of the vaccine, separated by 28 days.

Initial vaccination clinics will follow Centers for Disease Control and Prevention guidelines, and include:

- Pregnant or breastfeeding women, who must bring to See H1N1 on other side the clinic a signed order from their doctor authorizing their vaccination

- People who live with or care for children younger than 6 months of age
- Health care and emergency medical services personnel (EMT's/paramedics)
- All people ages six months through 24 years of age
- Those 25 through 64 years who have health conditions associated with higher risk of medical complications from influenza.

Once the demand for the prioritized groups has been met, the health department will begin vaccinating everyone ages 25 through 64 years. The last group to be vaccinated will be those 65 and older, because to date this
