Mayor details project wish list during 'state of city' report

Mayor Bill Crusinberry has several city projects he would like to see done soon. He listed those in a sort of "state of the city" report at Tuesday's Hoopeston City Council meeting.

Among those projects are:

- Improving water flow to the area on Route 1 where the new nursing home will be built. Crusinberry said there may be a fire flow problem in the area so he, along with Vicki Haugen of Vermilion Advantage and Greg Gustafson from Foth Engineering, are working on a grant for the project.
- Repairs of ground and aerial water storage tanks.

Hoopeston is still on track for a loan and principal forgiveness from the Illinois EPA, which should be decided in September.

- Extending a sanitary sewer line to Birkey's Farm Equipment on Route 1.
- Continuing to find a developer for a motel at Routes 1 and 9. Crusinberry has been in contact with a motel broker, as well as those who did the feasibility study showing a need for a motel. Both said they would try to provide information on possibly interested developers.
- Fixing the water main along Route 1 from Penn to Crown Ford.
