Stipp, Kansas City teens, to do mission work in Hoopeston

On July 23-29, Hoopeston Community Church of the Nazarene will host the youth group from Kansas City Central Church of the Nazarene. Cory Stipp (Hoopeston Area '94) leads the group as the youth pastor.

The group's purpose is to serve the Hoopeston community. During the trip, teens will take on many different projects. They will overhaul the sanctuary and many other parts of the church. Other projects include working for the Hoopeston Parks Department and making the church more handicapped-accessible.

Pastor Jeff Alexander, senior pastor at Hoopeston Community Church of the Nazarene, is very excited about the work the teens from Kansas City will complete. The mission trip will give the church a facelift, as well as serve the community.

Stipp will expose the teens to multiple areas in which they can minister and serve the community. Forty teens will come from Kansas City in the annual teen mission trip.
