The crane after rain stays mainly in the lane

The Rev. James Batchelor, left foreground, and others watch as a crane from Danner Construction of Rossville lifts about half of the trunk of a large tree from Batchelor's home in the 500 block of South Fourth St. The tree crashed onto the house between 10:30 p.m. and midnight Friday during a storm, Batchelor said. Employees of Rainwater Tree Service, of Rossville, trimmed away branches early Saturday before the crane was requested. Once the tree was secured with the crane, Hoopeston street and alley employees trimmed branches before the main branch was lowered to the ground.
