Hoopeston to go to the dogs for Bark in the Park fundraiser

Pets of all kinds are welcome at McFerren Park on Saturday for the first Bark in the Park.

The event is a fundraiser to benefit Hoopeston's homeless pets and is being organized by city humane officer Sherry Klemme, along with Crystal Platteter and Lynn Morgan.

Rummage for Rescue will be held from 8 a.m.-1 p.m. in the park. For a $20 setup fee, anyone can bring up to three tables and one clothing rack and have a rummage sale at the park.

Vendors of pet and people merchandise will also be at the park from 8 a.m.-1 p.m., including Pet Supplies Plus.

Other activities include a pet parade at 9 a.m. and dog show at 10 a.m., where Miss Hoopeston Jacy Samet will serve as a judge.

Hoopeston Veterinary Clinic will hold a vaccination clinic and Toujours Jeune Photography will take pet portraits. A 50/50 drawing will also be held.

After spending time at the park, residents are encouraged to eat at La Casa Del Sol on Saturday, where a portion of all proceeds will help support animal rescue. Organizers will host a party table at the restaurant at 6 p.m. Saturday.
