Rep. Harms announces results of spring legislative survey

WATSEKA—State Rep. Josh Harms released the results of a survey sent to residents of the 106th District this spring. The legislative survey included questions on pension reform, job creation, conceal carry, school safety, and other issues that have come up in the General Assembly. Harms said the survey helps guide him when bills come up for a vote.

“We had roughly 1,000 people participate in the survey and some of the results were pretty surprising,” Harms said. “Medical marijuana came back with 51% opposed and 49% in favor, that’s a lot closer than I would have guessed. Most of the results though were in line with what we would expect.”

Conceal carry is supported by 82% of respondents, 71% of people stated that school safety regulations should be left up to the local school districts instead of the State or Federal Government, and gay marriage was opposed by 79% of the participants.

Asked which of four suggestions would be most effect to attract and retain new employers to Illinois, 39 percent said reduce taxes on employers, followed by 31 percent saying reduce regulations on business.

Seventeen percent said Worker’s Comp reform would help, while 13 percent said offering industry-specific tax credits would help solve the problem.

On the issue of pension reform, 26 percent want increased employee contributions, while 20 percent suggested an increase in the retirement age. Another 20 percent suggested transitioning to a 401k-style system. Roughly 12 percent of respondents said the state should eliminate the Cost of Living Allowance (COLA) while another 12 percent suggested eliminating retiree healthcare coverage. Two other suggestions - increasing revenue and shifting the cost to local schools - each garnered five percent.

Asked if they support consolidation of township government, 55 percent said yes; 45 percent opposed it.

“I want to say thank you to everyone that took the time to fill out a survey,” said Harms. “These bills sometimes come up very fast in Springfield and knowing exactly where the district stands helps me better represent the 106th District.”

For a full list of the questions asked and the results, you can visit Harms’ website at www.repharms.org.
