Hoopeston Police team earns back to back Polar Plungers

For the second year in a row, Hoopeston Police Department took the plunge to raise money for Special Olympics—and they have the plunger to prove it.

On Sunday, the team was awarded a plaque-draped plunger, their trophy for being the police department to raise the most money at the March 1 Polar Plunge at Lake of the Woods in Mahomet.

Plunge continued from other side

Jackie Walk, Area 8 Special Olympics director, presented the plunger Sunday at Hoopeston City Hall.

Like last year, organizers had to break ice from the water so participants could rush headlong into the ice cold water.

HPD's team raised $1,835 for Special Olympics this year. "There were a couple more police departments that
