HPL to offer free showcase, ‘Love, Spitballs and Algebra’

Hoopeston Public Library invites patrons to see the teen comedy, “Love, Spitballs and Algebra,” at 6 p.m. Tuesday. The public performance is free but it is recommended that patrons pick up an advance ticket, available at the library’s main desk. Patrons may get tickets the evening of the showcase, also.

The fast-paced comedy presents five teen characters who try to survive math. Students, lost in algebra classes, reveal antics and savvy comments as they attempt to survive. The class motto is “Please, don’t call on me!”

When students visit their lockers, we learn about their romances, vampires, prom—and plans of rebellion. The teacher, Ms. Mina Mode, is portrayed by Maggie Cope. There are several surprises as to what “X” means - even for the teacher!

Spitballs continued from other side

The cast includes Kelsey Vines as Norma; Lori Riddle as Sheila and Charlene Cessna as Reptilian, the spitball master. Cameron Brotherton, as Dacky, outshines the others, while Juliana Layden (Jubilee) portrays the most popular girl in school.

"Love, Spitballs and Algebra!" was written and directed by Tom Sweeney. It is lightly based on two very successful, humorous short stories about algebra. "If you've ever felt lost in a math class - or, at the opposite extreme - you love math, this July 15 showcase is especially for you," Sweeney said.

Refreshments will follow the 40 minute program.

Hoopeston Public Library is at 110 N. Fourth St. For more information, call (217) 283-6711.

Weather
