'I Sing the Body Electric' projects on display at HPL

Area residents may view this year's "I Sing the Body Electric" projects at Hoopeston Public Library from July 14-22.

The "I Sing the Body Electric" program asks Vermilion County youth to identify the top health risks they face, and it issues a report on the results of that survey. Staff members enlist art teachers in area high schools to work with teens who develop art projects illuminating the risks.

"I Sing the Body Electric" takes those art pieces on tour to get young people talking about the issues they face or are likely to face—including depression, teen pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse, bullying, and smoking—and to help them understand the potential consequences of the choices they make.
