Easter bunny to lend a paw to benefit city animal shelter

Hoopeston Animal Shelter will get a helping paw from the Easter bunny on Saturday during a chili dinner fundraiser.

The dinner will be held from 5-8 p.m. at Hoopes-ton American Legion, 502 E. Penn. The freewill offering dinner will include chili, corn bread, fixings, coffee, tea, lemonade or juice. Carry-outs will be available.

The Easter bunny will be on hand for photos at the dinner (no pets, please). Cost is $5 per print.

Other activities will include a 20/20 drawing, silent auction of donated items and a cupcake sale.

All proceeds will go to the shelter, which is operated by volunteers who have helped hundreds of animals find new homes or rescue. Supply donations are also welcome to be dropped off the night of the event.

Former coach to be named first BSA Distinguished Citizen

Prairielands Council, Boy Scouts of America, is pleased to announce that former fighting Illini coach and newly selected Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame coach, Lou Henson, will be the recipient of the council's first Distinguished Citizen Award.

The award will be presented at a special event from 6-8 p.m. Thursday, May 7, at the Colonades Club in Memorial Stadium on the University of Illinois campus.

The event will include a cocktail buffet and congratulations to the coach. Brian Barnhart, Voice of the Fighting Illini, will be master of ceremonies of the event, which will feature highlights of Henson's life and contributions to youth, athletics and the community. Henson's closest friends and colleagues will recall personal moments of him.

Cost of the event is $250; corporate sponsorships are available.

Prairielands Council officials chose to honor Henson with the maiden award because his coaching career exemplified the same attributes as the scouting program to develop young adults into community leaders, including:

his impact on the lives of those he coached, developing boys into men of strong moral character;

his ability to identify potential in young men and lead them to allow them to use that potential to its fullest;

his successful coaching style that developed leadership skills through teamwork;

His influence in guiding young men through adversity and giving them coping skills;

His example that good citizenship leads to a strong community.

Henson, 83, began his coaching career in 1958 at Las Cruces High School, Las Cruces, New Mexico, where, as head coach for four years, he led his team to state championships in 1959, 1960 and 1961.

His college coaching career began in 1962 at Hardin-Simmons University. In 1966, he took over at his alma mater, New Mexico State University, where the Aggies rebounded from a 4-22 record the prior season to 15-11. In 1970, he led the Aggies to their only trip to the Final Four.

In 1975, Henson moved to the University of Illinois, leading the Illini to the Final Four in 1989. In 21 years at Illinois, he garnered 423 wins and 224 losses, with a record of 214 wins and 164 losses in Big Ten Conference games.

In 1997, Henson was named interim head coach at New Mexico State, then was named head coach until his retirement in midseason 2004-05, for health reasons.
