Letters to the Editor

Thanks to aldermen for doing what's right

My fellow Hoopetonians,
I would like to commend these Hoopeton council members for standing up for what is right in regards to the spending of the peoples money to tear down houses. Bill Goodwine, along with Chad Yaden, Brandon Hamilton and Lourdine Florek, voted against purchasing the property.

The other four and Mayor are going against the will of the people's vote. They rammed this 20 percent surcharge increase on our water bills down our throats and, now they are spending money like there is no tomorrow.

They have the same odor of Washington D.C. politicians, which reminds me of the pig trailers my little brother and I cleaned out at Decker's Livestock Barn at Milford during the 1960s for extra money. My brother and I could not tax people at our will to pay for what we wanted. We had to work for it.

By the way, I would like to see a yearly audit of those water bill surcharge funds just to see where that money is going.

What do think Hoopetonians? Do you trust some of our city politicians?

VOTE!

Thank you, founding Fathers, for the first amendment. We still have the right to free thought so far.
