Food for Fines to be offered by Hoopeston Public Library

Annual program collects canned, paper items for Grant Township Food Cupboard

Hoopeston Public Library is offering its annual holiday "gift" to the community that will also support the Grant Township Food Cupboard.

From December 1 through December 30 only, library patrons can pay their overdue fines with canned food or other non-perishable items, which will be donated to the Food Cupboard.

For each item brought in, the patron will receive $1 off their library fine.

"Food for Fines" is good only to pay fines, and cannot be used to pay for lost materials or other fees.

Patrons will not receive change or credit if their fine is less than a whole dollar amount. For example, to pay all of a $2.50 fine, they must bring in three items.

Items should not be past their expiration date, should be in their original package, clean and not damaged. Some single-serve items may not qualify. Any canned or dry packaged food items or paper goods will be accepted, but most needed this year are canned vegetables, soap and toilet paper.

For more information, call the library at 217-283-6711.
