Hoopeston mourns death of Rita Dean, retired teacher, singer

Hoopeston is mourning the death of a longtime teacher, friend and songstress.

Rita Dean, of Hoopeston, died of injuries from a two-vehicle accident Tuesday north of Paxton.

Mrs. Dean was a former English teacher at Hoopeston Area High School and was a member of the Danville Sweet Adelines.

According to a Ford County accident report, the accident occurred at about 2:18 p.m. Tuesday. Pedro Vargas Gonzales, 42, of Loda, in a 2006 Pontiac Grand Prix, was eastbound on County Rd. 800N, entered the intersection of Rt. 115, and hit Mrs. Dean's 2014 Ford Escape in the driver's side door area.

Vargas-Gonzales' car then spun 90 degrees counterclockwise, hit a utility pole and ended up facing north.

Mrs. Dean's vehicle veered off the pavement right and hit the guide wire to the utility pole, rolled over once, resting on its tires, facing northeast, according to the report.

Mrs. Dean was airlifted to Carle Foundation Hospital, where she later died.

Information on Vargas-Gonzales' injuries was not available at press time. He was cited for no valid license and failure to stop at the intersection.
