Feds deny disaster designation

Illinois Emergency Management Agency (IEMA) was notified April 22 by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) that the April 8, appeal for a major disaster declaration as a result of the severe storms and flooding during the period of December 23, 2015 to January 13, 2016 has been denied.
 FEMA's denial of IEMA's request will prevent the state of Illinois from receiving Public Assistance for 17 counties - including Iroquois and Vermilion - devastated by the event and prevent the receipt of hazard mitigation to help prevent the occurrence of storm-related damages in Illinois in the future.
