Happy Birthday to Us!

By BERTHA PARSONS

I love birthdays, yours or mine. Mother said, "The whole month is your birthday." September is my birthday month. It is strange how a birthday can make a difference in one's life. No matter how old I get (whatever age that is?) I love getting cards and hearing people say, "Happy Birthday."

What does your birthday mean to you? Have you ever really thought about the day you were born and how much you must have meant to your family? My Mother used to call me early on my day and right away tell me how much I meant to her. Wow! Sometimes it is a strange feeling to think about our birthday, how valuable and important we really are to others!

Labor Day is about working and so are birthdays. Each of us work to a certain age or place in our life and some of us "labor" longer than others. It's funny, when someone asks me how old I am I usually say, "Gee, I don't really know. I could be any age, but whatever age I am I'm happy in the place I am right now." To that a friend asked, "How did you get to that happy place? It seems I am always looking for someplace better or newer or pays more, or friends that pay attention to me. What am I doing wrong?"

I do not believe there is a clear cut "one-size-fits-all" answer to that question. I maintain that like birthdays, life isn't a destination, it's a journey. From one birthday to the next we come upon unexpected curves and turning points, mountaintops and valleys. In life you have to be on a relentless daily search for what works best for you and what makes you happy.

Everything that happens to us shapes who we are becoming. A birthday now and then, Labor Day come and gone and autumn begins. Life goes on. Therefore in the adventure of each day, we discover the best in ourselves. Make the most of every day. You only get one chance at it.
