Hoopeston Public Library to present Alzheimer's seminars

The warning signs of Alzheimer's disease are often dismissed as side effects of normal aging. If you or someone you love is experiencing memory loss or behavioral changes, it's time to learn the facts. Early detection gives you a chance to plan for the future. And providing care for someone with memory loss can be a labor of love, but it can also be exhausting and stressful.

Hoopeston Public Library is hosting two free seminars which will address these topics on Saturday, June 10.

From 10-11:30 a.m., representatives from the Greater Illinois Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association will present "Know the 10 Warning Signs." The program will help separate myth from reality and address commonly-held fears about Alzheimer's in America. Hear from people who have the disease and find out how to recognize the signs in yourself and others.

From 1-2:30 p.m., the program will discuss "Caregiver Stress", share causes, signs and symptoms of stress, and provide participants with stress-reduction strategies.

Both programs are free of charge and will also include time for questions and answers. Participants may attend one or both sessions.

For more information, call the library at 217-283-6711. The library is at 110 N. Fourth St., Hoopeston.
