VCHD to hold twice-monthly WIC clinics at Multi Agency

Vermilion County Health Department's (VCHD) Women, Infants and Children program will hold twice-a-month walk-in clinics at the Hoopeston Multi-Agency, at 206 S. First Ave., starting September 12.

The Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children – shortened to WIC – is a federal nutrition program providing supplemental foods, health care referrals, breastfeeding support, and nutrition education. The program is available to eligible pregnant and postpartum women, in addition to infants and children up to the age of five.

Mothers who participate in WIC are more likely to initiate breastfeeding, and to breastfeed longer. WIC can provide iron-fortified formula for infants of mothers who choose to not breastfeed.

WIC started an enhanced food package a few years ago, emphasizing fruits, vegetables and grains. These foods are purchased with vouchers that can be redeemed at grocery stores. WIC also participates in the farmers' market program, which provides additional locally grown fruits and vegetables during the summer.

"This has proven to show positive changes in children's diet, and reductions in childhood obesity," said Cheryl Sprague, WIC Program supervisor.

The clinic at Hoopeston Multi-Agency will be open 9 a.m.-3 p.m. the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, and will close for a 30-minute break at noon. Appointments are not necessary.

"The Multi-Agency Service Center is happy to host the Vermilion County Health Department for this important service to women, infants and children. Supporting and educating new mothers in this way will certainly impact the development of their children," said Dana Schaumburg, the Executive Director of the Hoopeston Multi-Agency Service Center.

The health department has not offered WIC services outside its main office at 200 S. College St., Danville, for years. At its office, WIC is open 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. daily except Thursday, when it is open 11 a.m.-7 p.m. While appointments are needed most days, VCHD holds WIC "Walk-In Wednesdays" for those who have not made an appointment.

Staff are excited to set up satellite clinics again. "Dana and the Hoopeston Multi-Agency Service Center board members have been very gracious hosts, and it will be a great location for us," said Douglas Toole, Public Health Administrator, adding the clinic should ease transportation and scheduling issues for northern Vermilion County residents.

Working families can be eligible for WIC services. A family of four with gross annual income of up to $45,510 would meet the income guidelines to receive services.

"About half of the babies born in Vermilion County are born to WIC-eligible moms," Sprague said. "There are many in the community who are not on WIC who we know would be eligible for it."
