Heat, humidity to slow cook area through Saturday evening

The National Weather Service has issued a heat advisory for Vermilion County from 10 a.m. Friday until 8 p.m. Saturday. Temperatures above the 90 degree mark, combined with high humidity, are expected to create sauna-like conditions.

Such conditions can cause problems for people - especially the elderly and those with health issues - and pets. To beat the heat and stay safe, experts list the following tips:

- Never leave children or pets in a vehicle, where the inside temperature can quickly reach 120 degrees. However, experts warn, some pet owners now leave their vehicles running and the air conditioning on during quick stops. Animal lovers are asked to check for a running vehicle before calling authorities.

- Stay indoors in air conditioning, if possible. Slow down and avoid strenuous activity during the hottest part of the day.

- Stay hydrated. Drink plenty of fluids, but avoid those with caffeine or alcohol.

- Avoid extreme temperature changes.

- Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothing. Avoid dark colors that absorb the sun's rays.

- Use a buddy system when working outdoors. Take frequent breaks.

- Check on family, friends and neighbors who don't have air conditioning or who live alone.

- Those who don't have air conditioning may consider going to places that do during the hottest part of the day, such as stores, libraries and theaters.

Sometimes those who must be outdoors in extreme heat will suffer from heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

Signs of heat exhaustion include cool, moist, pale or flushed skin, heavy sweating, headache, nausea, dizziness, weakness exhaustion), move them to a cooler place, remove or loosen tight clothing and spray the person with water or apply cool, wet cloths or towels to the skin. Fan the person. If they are conscious, give small amounts of cool water to drink. Make sure the person drinks slowly. Watch for changes in condition. If the person refuses water, vomits or begins to lose consciousness, call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number.

Heat stroke, left untreated, is life-threatening. Signs include hot, red skin which may be dry or moist; changes in consciousness; vomiting and high body temperature. Call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number immediately if someone shows signs of heat stroke. Move the person to a cooler place. Quickly cool the person's body by immersing them up to their neck in cold water if possible. Otherwise, douse or spray the person with cold water, or cover the person with cold, wet towels or bags of ice.

Pets need care, too

Animals can suffer heat stroke, too. Dogs with short snouts, such as the boxer and bulldog, are especially prone to it, as are obese pets, those with extremely thick coats and those with upper respiratory problems. Symptoms include heavy panting and unable to calm down, even when lying down; brick red gum color; fast pulse rate; and unable to get up.

Those who suspect their pet has heat stroke should take their pet's temperature rectally. If above 105 degrees, the animal should be cooled down. The easiest way to do this is with a water hose. Bring the temperature down to 103 degrees and take the animal to the veterinarian as soon as possible.

Tips to help pets stay cool include:

- Make sure they have plenty of fresh, cool water.
- If your pets are outdoor animals, consider bringing them inside during the heat or make sure they have a shaded spot outdoors.
- Schedule walks during the morning or evening, avoiding the hottest part of the day. Be mindful of the surfaces your pets walk on. Pavement, blacktop and even sand can easily burn dogs' paws.
