Beam me up
 Justin Acton, owner of Ross Leemon Construction, removes the final beam from the dilapidated building at 205 E. Main. Using precise cuts, workers sawed and removed individual roof timbers to raze the building without damaging adjacent structures. The sidewalk, closed to pedestrian traffic for nearly two years, was reopened but the building site was still fenced Thursday morning, waiting for more fill dirt. Work on the building began last week but was stopped by rain delays.

First Christian Church to start Saturday evening services

First Christian Church of Hoopeston will begin Saturday evening worship services on September 22. The service will begin at 5:30 p.m. and last about 30-35 minutes. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Saturday services are generally more casual than Sunday services. People wear whatever they have on, depending on what they have been doing that day. Additionally, these services are usually short to accommodate busy Saturday schedules.

Though shorter than Sunday services, Christians may still witness and celebrate God by singing songs, praying, listening to a short sermon by Rev. Tom Cici, and participating in Holy Communion. All who believe that Jesus Christ is the Lord and Savior of the world may receive communion at First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).
