Program outlining the prophecy of Passover set for April 7

First Church of God will host a program showing how the Jewish Passover was God's way of revealing Christ.

Lisa Weisbaum, of Jews for Jesus, will present "Christ in the Passover" at 6 p.m. Sunday, April 7 at the church, 1004 E. Orange St., Hoopeston.

Weisbaum will describe elements of the Passover meal, demonstrating how God was prophesying and revealing Christ more than 1,000 years before His birth and giving people a picture of how man's redemption would take place.

Weisbaum will set a table with items traditionally used at the Passover and detail their spiritual significance. She will also explain the connection between the first Passover in Egypt and Jesus' redemption, as well as the bond between the ancient Passover feast and the Christian communion celebration today. Jesus' last supper was actually a Jewish Passover.

Pastor David Bowen is excited about the presentation, especially the learning of how the Passover foreshadows Christ. "It's history, prophecy and meaning rolled into one 60-minute, multi-sensory presentation," he said. "It will give a freshness and deeper meaning to each believer who engages to learn."

Weisbaum is a missionary at the Florida branch of Jews for Jesus. She retired from a 29-year career with the New

Passover continued from other side

York City Department of Education and joined the group in 2013.

Jews for Jesus has presented "Christ in the Passover" at more than 38,000 churches. It has been enthusiastically received by Christians who appreciate learning more about the Jewish backgrounds of their faith. Organization founder Moishe Rosen, co-wrote the book, Christ in the Passover, with his wife, Ceil. The book includes a look at Passover in ancient times and how it is practiced today. It will be available after the presentation, as well as a DVD of the Christ in the Passover presentation officiated by David Brickner, Jews for Jesus executive director.

The program at First Church of God is free to the public. A freewill offering will be taken.
