Corn takes center stage but tomatoes, garlic get their due, too

For some, the tender, golden sweet corn takes center stage during the National Sweetcorn Festival. After all, that's what the event is named after.

Others fancy the National Sweetheart Pageant. This year, 30 young women from around the country have come to Hoopeston, each hoping to claim the title of National Sweetheart.

Still others come for the sights and sounds of the midway or the crashes and cheers of the demo derby, or the annual concert featuring a country singer or group. This year, Joe Diffie will perform at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the McFerren Park annex.

Then there are those who come for the garlic and tomatoes.

Wait, what?

Both vegetables are featured at St. Anthony's taco booth, a favorite of many festivalgoers.

Each year, area residents donate home-grown tomatoes. A request is put in the church bulletin and word spreads from there, said Bill Goodwine, coordinator of St. Anthony Youth Group's annual mission trip.

Tomatoes are often dropped off at the parish hall when no one is there, but "We check the door throughout the day. Since we like to thank people, we would like to know who brought them, he said.

Then there's the garlic which, for years, has been supplied by Fred Zemke. A wet, cold spring ruined his crop and those of other local growers, so this year, the taco crew will depend on Hoopeston IGA for garlic, as they do for the meat. "IGA is great to work with," Goodwine said. "They grind our meat early every morning and we cook it fresh each morning."

Then there's the recipe...or rather, the lack of one. "We really don't have a recipe," said taco volunteer Sabrina Koening. "Yolanda Pemberton's taste buds are our guide."

Since the taco stand is off the midway, workers create their own little ambiance, complete with mariachi music. "We will be having so much fun ourselves that if you come, you will have fun with us," said Alyssa Alwardt, a three-year taco and mission trip veteran.

Money raised goes to the youth mission trip taken each June. "At camp, we join 250 other students, split into groups of five or six and accomplish 50 projects," said Mason Layden. Mackenzie Tate added, "We often see some real poverty wherever we go."

The trips are also about fun. Last year, the group ate dinner in New Orleans' French Quarter. "Who will forget the flaming Bananas Foster for dessert, asked JJ Mendez.

St. Anthony historians say the taco booth dates back to 1946. "I didn't help at that one," Ryleigh Wardell deadpanned in pretended earnestness.

One person killed, two injured in single-vehicle accident Monday

One man was killed and two others injured in a one-vehicle accident Monday night.

Illinois State Police investigated the accident, which occurred at 8:26 p.m. on Rt. 9 just east of Cheneyville Road.

The westbound Ford Freestar van left the road, struck a culvert flipped and came to rest in a cornfield, according to the report.

An unidentified 37-year-old passenger was pronounced dead at the scene. The driver, Miguel I. Vera, 36, of San Benito, Tex., and an unidentified 38-year-old passenger, were taken to a local hospital.
