ADM's Charlie Smith, others to provide info at fall outlook

As farmers look toward harvest, Vermilion County Farm Bureau is holding a program to provide them with timely information on commodity prices and elevator facility plans for this fall.

Two local elevator managers will participate in the Fall Ag Outlook meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 17. Charlie Smith, with ADM in Hoopeston, and Rich Thomas, with Premier Cooperative, will discuss plans for their locations during the harvest season.

Also, with the latest USDA crop report issued the previous Friday, Curt Kimmel with Bates Commodities will provide a commodity market outlook. He'll give his analysis of the crop report production and stocks numbers and look at what price trends could be through harvest and beyond.

The program will begin at 6 pm in the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 1905 U.S. Route 150.

The program will be moderated by Paul Coolley, who has several years of grain marketing experience. It is open to all Farm Bureau members.

State Rep. Bennett details new processes for FOID renewals

In response to constituent complaints about Firearms Owners Identification (FOID) card renewal issues, State Rep. Tom Bennet, (R-106) spoke with the Illinois State Police (ISP) about some improvements they are implementing to make the renewal process smoother. It is important to note that FOID cards will still be valid during the renewal process as long as the holder applied for the renewal before the expiration date on the current card.

ISP representatives say they average about 25,000 FOID card applications each month. They have a hotline to assist applicants, but it is only staffed by five people.

ISP is now implementing an upgraded phone system, which will include an interactive, automated option for those who just need to compete an application without speaking to a customer service agent. It will also let applicants request a call-back without having to spend a long time on hold. It will be possible to use the automated system to renew a FOID card or a Concealed Carry License (if there is no address change) over the phone, including payment.

Meanwhile, ISP reminds prospective applicants there are four methods of finding help with FOID card or CCL questions. You can call (217) 782-7980 to speak to someone, visit www.ispfsb.com to find information about frequently asked questions, e-mail ISP at ASK-FOID@illinois.gov for customer service questions, or find a video tutorial from ISP on Youtube.

Constituents who continue to have difficulty connecting with ISP can contact Bennett's office for assistance, via webform at repbennett.com, or by phone at (815) 432-0106 (Watseka) or (815) 844-9179 (Pontiac).
