Bears great Jim McMahon to be at Bricks & Ivy Saturday

Bricks & Ivy Sports is making noise once again with their latest Meet and Greet Autograph Signing announcement with Chicago Bears quarterback Jim McMahon. The "Punky QB" will greet fans from noon to 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 9.

"When you think about the '85 Chicago Bears, you think about just how dominant their defense was, you think about Walter Payton and you most certainly think about the Punky QB, Jim McMahon," said Emily Brown, owner of Bricks & Ivy Sports.

"Over the past few years, we've had a bunch of Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals visit our store and our customers have been on us about having some Chicago Bears players visit the store," she said. "When we thought about which Chicago Bears players would be best, Jim McMahon was at the top of our list."

After an accomplished collegiate career, McMahon went on to play 15 years in the NFL. Mac (as his teammates and friends call him) won two Super Bowls, including as one of the 1985 legendary Chicago Bears;

Work of Hoopeston artists to be exhibited at Danville gallery

The Alley Gallery, 113 N. Vermilion Danville, is excited to announce a new exhibit.

#the Hikes, as the exhibit is titled, presents the work of two local artists. Joe Monroe and Kathy Harden both of Hoopeston, will show magical paintings and collages reflecting their joint excursions of discovery in the parks in the area.

The impressions gained on their walks led them into feelings of calmness and quietude which are evident in the colorful works.

The two artists rediscovered each other after years of being away from each other. They first knew each other in grade school.

The exhibit will be in the Gallery November 10 through December 27.

A reception to meet the artists will be November 10 from 2-5 p.m. Illinois time.

During the reception Joe and Kathy will talk about their individual approaches to making art in general and this series in particular. All work will be for sale. The reception is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be provided.
