Short on members, Hoopeston City Council takes no action

With half its members missing, Hoopeston City Council was unable to take action on any business Tuesday night.

After reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and hearing from two aldermen, the group disbanded for the evening.

Ald. Jeff Wise reported that Don Stebbins, a 17-year city employee, has been named manager of Floral Hill Cemetery. Stebbins has been a good employee of the street and alley department and, Wise said, will bring See COUNCIL on other side

"People posted their problems on social media," Florek said, "but the city doesn't have an employee monitoring social media. We can't fix it if we don't know about it."

The quickest way to get problems fixed is to call the water office and report the issue so that Supt. Steve Baker can prioritize calls and send his employees throughout Hoopeston in response, she said.

Calls may be made to the water office from 7 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday. Emergencies after hours or on weekends may be reported by calling the Hoopeston Police Department non-emergency number, (217) 283-5196.
