Area residents line up outside of Hoopeston's Driver Services office Tuesday, waiting to renew stickers or driver's licenses on the first day open since all DMVs were closed March 17.

Residents' wait is over to renew driver's licenses, registrations as state offices reopen

An estimated 700,000 Illinois residents with expired drivers licenses and ID cards and another 1.9 million with expired vehicle registrations can finally visit Illinois Secretary of State Driver Services offices.

Tuesday was the day Hoopeston's office reopened, after being shut down due to COVID-19 since March 17.

Residents were lined out the door and across the parking lot, waiting to transact needed business. Vehicles lined both sides of the parking lot, a neighboring lot and were parked along West Elm.

The office will be open Tuesdays from 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Wednesday-Friday from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. and Saturdays from 7:30 -noon.

For the first two months, through July 31, the facility - and outside the Chicago metro area - will only serve new drivers (most expected to be 16-year-old driver applicants); customers with expired licenses and ID cards and vehicle transactions.

Customers and employees are required to wear face masks. Plexiglass has been installed at work stations and tape applied to the floor in six foot intervals. For driving tests, employees will wear a face mask and face shield, due to the close proximity of the customer in the vehicle. Drivers will be required to wear a face mask and disposable plastic will be used to cover vehicle seats during the driving test.

Illinois Secretary of State Jesse White said ninety-day extensions for licenses, IDs and stickers will remain in effect to help alleviate the initial rush of customers to the drivers' facilities.

Many services, such as renewing registration stickers or renewing a license through the Safe Driver Renewal Program, can be done online at www.cyberdriveillinois.com.
